GERMAN COLUMN WITHIN FEW MILES OF PARIS OUTER FORTS

With Invaders at Very Gateway of French Capital, Gallieni Says
City Will Hold Out.

A SOCIALIST MANIFESTO

Suggestion That City May Surrender
to Prevent Exhausting Siege Finds No Credence.

NEW CAPITAL IS OCCUPIED

President Poincare and Cabinet Meet at Bordeaux and Announce Conditions Are Satisfactory.

(By United Press.)

Paris, Sept. 4.—The German attacking column is believed already within a few miles of the outer ring of Paris forts. The only official statement was that the allies hold the "line of third defense." General Gallieni maintains the city can hold out.

One striking event was the issuance of a manifesto by the Socialist leader calling on all members of the party and citizens in general to perform their duty in defense of Paris. Suggestion that the city too may be surrendered to prevent an exhausting siege finds no credence here.

A dispatch from Bordeaux says that President Poincare and his cabinet met in the temporary capital today for the first time and considered conditions at the front.

It was announced that conditions were satisfactory. Although the German invasion continued, there is extreme confidence in official circles that it will soon be beaten. The army is being heavily reinforced and a new stand will be made on the line of defense previously selected of which the outer forts will be the key-stone.

Minister of War Miller and declared emphatically that the Germans will never be able to take Paris.

It is considered certain that the allied lines will eventually have to fall back to the Paris fortifications. Already there is discussion of the final line of occupation. So far as outward indications are concerned the final line of defense will be extremely advantageous to the allies. Roughly speaking it will take the form of a gigantic letter Z. The first line will extend northeast to a point in the vicinity of LaFere. The second will extend roughly to the southeast to Rheims. The third will extend northeast again to Meziere and the fourth southeast toward Verdun. This latter line, however, is mobile inasmuch as the French are in very great strength allthrough this territory.

The military experts declare that a line of this character will give the French a material advantage. It will all be heavily entrenched the angles resting in strongly fortified positions. To attack the Germans will be compelled to divide their forces and move against forces that have all of the natural advantage of position strongly equipped with artillery and rapid fire guns that have already caused great execution.

The military have been in complete control of the city today. All of the forts are completely manned with the picked forces selected for their defense. Within the city martial law prevails. Perfect of Police Hennion, who has been in ill health,

FIGHTING ALONG NEW BATTLE LINE

Battle in Russian Poland Where Germans Reinforced Austrians of Serious Character.

ON OFFENSIVE IN GALICIA

Entire Austrian Army Now in Danger of Annihilation, Russian War Office States Today.

(By United Press.)

Petrograd, Russia, Sept. 4.—The Russian armies are today fighting along an entirely new battle line. In Russian Poland, where the Austrian left wing has been heavily reinforced by the Germans, the fighting is of the most serious character. The Russians are holding their lines, content to remain on the defensive until the additional reinforcements now being sent forward from the concentration district.

To the south in Austria, however, the situation is much different. There the Russians are on the offensive and the Austrians have been pushed back toward the San river. They are holding their advanced lines and are concentrating on Przemyśl, where another great battle is certain.

An official statement issued by the minister of war today said:

"The Russian forces are in complete mastery of all of eastern Galicia. The Austrian forces which have been badly decimated in the recent fighting consisted of eight of their army corps comprising the most effective of the Austrian active army. The fact that they have been completely routed and only can spell disaster to the Austrian cause. The Russian advance is continuing rapidly."

The advance of the Russians through Galicia is declared to be extremely rapid. The Cossacks are sweeping the country in front of the infantry, falling back whenever strong positions are located.

The general staff issued a statement today reviewing the general situation which was everywhere characterized as excellent. It is stated that the operations in east Prussia are again being forced. It is admitted the German artillery has so far proved superior to the Russian but it is also stated that additional artillery is now being sent into action.

The war office announces today the result of the fighting on September 1 between Lublin and Kholm. It is stated that the Austrians attacked the Russian center and were repulsed with the loss of several thousand men and many rapid-fire guns.

The official report of the capture of Lemburg on Wednesday by the Russian forces as received from Grand Duke Nicholas was made public today. It says:

"With extreme joy, and thanking God, I announce to your majesty that our victorious army, under General Ruzsky entered Lemburg at 11 o'clock this morning. The army of General Brussaloff has occupied Halicz. I beg your majesty to confer the fourth class of the order of St. George on General Ruzsky and the same order on General Brussaloff."

It is stated at the war office that

SAYS WAR TAX IS NECESSITY

President Wilson Today Tells Joint Session of Congress $100,000,000 Annually Must be Raised.

REVENUES DWINDLE FAST

He Declares This is Due Chiefly to War and Not to Reductions Made Recently in Tariff.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Sept. 4.—President Wilson today in a special "address" to a joint session of congress asked imposition of internal revenues taxes sufficient to raise $100,000,000 annually because of dwindling customs revenues, partly as a result of the European war.

The president said the "war tax" was necessary, immediately, to keep the treasury unimpaired and to place it beyond public question in strength. He emphatically said a bond issue would be unwise.

"We ought not to borrow" he said. "We ought to resort to taxation however we may regret the necessity of putting additional temporary burdens on our people."

That an emergency which did not brook temporizing or delay, although not of our making, exists and "we must accept the inevitable with calm judgment and unflinched spirits," was stated by the chief executive.

The president said:

"Gentlemen of the congress:

"I come to you today to discharge a duty which I wish with all my heart I might have been spared; but it is a duty which is very clear, and therefore, I perform it without hesitation or apology. I come to ask very earnestly that additional revenue be provided for the government."

"During the month of August there were, as compared with the corresponding month last year, a falling off of $10,629,538 in the revenues collected from customs. A continuation of this decrease in the same proportion throughout the current fiscal year would probably mean a loss of customs revenues of from sixty to one hundred millions. I need not tell you to what this falling off it due. It is due, in chief part, not to the reduction recently made in the customs duties, but to the great decrease in importations; and that is due to the extraordinary extent of the industrial area affected by the present war in Europe."

"Conditions have arisen which no man saw. Therefore the whole world of commerce and economic production; and they must be faced and dealt with."

"It would be very unwise to postpone dealing with them. Delay in such a matter and in the particular circumstances in which we now find ourselves as a nation might involve consequences of the most embarrassing and deplorable sort for which, I for one, would not care to be responsible. It would be very dangerous in the present circumstances to create a moment's doubt as to the strength and sufficiency of the treasury of the United States, its ability to assist, to steady, and sustain the financial operations of the country's business. If the treasury is known, or even thought to be weak, where will be our peace of mind? The whole industrial activity of the country would be chilled and demoralized. Just now the peculiarly difficult financial problems of the moment are being successfully dealt with, with self-possession and good sense and very sound judgment; but only in process of being worked out. If the

Teachers of Anderson Township
Wish to Hold it in Connection With Chautauqua.

Z. M. Smith Outlines Plan For Teaching Agriculture at Preliminary Institute Today.

VOTES AGAINST CHANGE.

By a vote of 57 to 16 the teachers decided not to change the Rush County Teachers' institute to Milroy next year. The vote was taken just before adjournment and would not have been final as all the teachers were not represented.

More agitation for the changing of the county teachers' institute next year to Milroy from this city was heard today at the preliminary institute of the teachers from the township schools held in the assembly room of the court house. The movement gained such headway this morning that a vote was to be taken on the question before adjourning this afternoon.

The plan as advocated by some of the Milroy and Anderson township teachers is to move the institute to Milroy and hold it there next year in connection with the chautauqua. In the hope of gaining support of Carthage and Ripley township teachers, the institute is to be offered to Carthage for the next year, providing Milroy wins out in its fight.

An effort has been made by the teachers to keep the agitation down but a break is bound to come sooner or later and it is certain that Milroy will make an effort to land the coun-

SUFFERS STROKE AS HE DRIVES MACHINE

William Orme, Living Southwest of Here, Overcome by Paralysis
While Going to Fair Today.

SON PREVENTS ACCIDENT

William Orme, a farmer living seven and a half miles southwest of here, suffered a stroke of paralysis this morning while driving his automobile to the Shelby county fair at Shelbyville. Members of the family were in the automobile with him and his son, Russell, who rode in the front seat with him, took hold of the steering wheel when his father sank back in the seat and prevented the automobile from turning over.

Reports from the Orme home at noon were that Mr. Orme was resting as well as could be expected but that he was in a serious condition.

They had not gone far when the stroke came on Mr. Orme. Before he was visibly affected, members of his family in the car had noticed that he had not paid any attention to bits of conversation addressed to him. He made a turn, in the road rather sharply and they became alarmed. In almost the next instant he was overcome. The car ran out to the side of the road but was stopped before any damage was done.

Mr. Orme is a brother of Bert Orme and father of Arnold Orme, former councilman, both of this city.

COUNCIL PASSES BUDGET FOR 1915

Appropriates $52,038.86 Which it is Estimated Will be Necessary to Pay City Expenses.

TAX LEVY ALSO INCREASED

Found Necessary to Add 15 Cents to Levy For Bonded Indebtedness to Meet 1915 Bonds.

The city council met last night and appropriated the money estimated to be required to operate the city government during the year 1915 and also fixed the tax levy. It is estimated that $52,038.86 will be required to maintain the city government another year.

The council made only one change in the tax levy and this was in the levy for the payment of the bonded indebtedness and interest. The levy for this part of the budget last year and in previous years was nineteen cents. The council, because of the large amount of bonds falling due in 1915, placed this levy at thirty-four cents. The library tax will remain the same as in former years five cents.

The old levy of nineteen cents on each one hundred dollars as established by the old council was found insufficient to pay the bonded indebtedness of the city as contracted by the old council. In 1915 a total of $10,072.36 in bonds and interest falls due and to meet this it was necessary to raise this levy to 34 cents. These bonds were issued by the last administration and the council believed it was good business to increase this particular levy and pay off the indebtedness of the city at four per cent interest, which the bonds call for, than borrow money and put on an additional six per cent interest, which would have to be paid on the money borrowed.

The general fund levy of seventy-six cents as established in former years was left as it was and the only increased revenue to the city will go towards the indebtedness. There is $3,480,000 in taxables in the city, according to the statement of the county auditor, as sent to the council.

After establishing the tax levy the council then passed the appropriation ordinances giving an estimate of the amount of money required to operate the various departments for the coming year. The appropriations are as follows: salaries, $4,880; water and light plant, $24,000; fire department, $3,500; street department, $7,000; board of health, $300; sewer contract, $750; bonded indebtedness and interest, $10,072.36; street and sidewalk intersections, $500; express, postage, telephone, telegraph, printing and miscellaneous, $250; library fund (estimated) $1,524.

The meeting last night was a special session and it was intended to take up the remonstrance of Wade Sherman against the assessment role of the South Perkins street paving improvement but the press of business was too great and this was carried over until the next regular meeting.

CARS PILED UP FORTY FEET HIGH

Eighteen of 25 Off Track in C. H. D.
Wreck in Morristown Are Reduced to Kindling.

THREE MEN ARE INJURED

Harry Talbert, Who Rode in Wagon
Train Hit, May Die—Switch Post
Broken and Cars Take Siding.

One of the worst freight wrecks the C. H. & D. has suffered in years occurred yesterday in Morristown when westbound train No. 86 hit an empty gravel wagon driven by Harry Talbert. The wagon was thrown against a switch post, breaking it off even with the ground and allowing the switch to fly open. The engine and tender remained on the main track but the cars following started on the siding and the result was that eighteen of the total of twenty-five cars off the track were piled up and smashed.

That Talbert was not killed instantly was remarkable. He was hurled a distance of sixty feet and suffered a badly broken right leg and internal injuries. He was removed to an Indianapolis hospital late yesterday afternoon and is believed to have but little chance for recovery. R. S. Stewart of Indianapolis, fireman, suffered a dislocated shoulder and numerous bruises and W. H. Mettenberry, of Louisville, Ky., a hobo, was badly scalded. Mettenberry was beating his way on the train and had been put to work on the engine helping the fireman.

Talbert and his cousin Carl Talbert were racing back to the gravel pit, north of Morristown. Carl Talbert got across the track and the wagon in which Harry Talbert was riding was almost across when hit. That Talbert saw the train coming is almost certain for the track is in plain view from the street leading up to the crossing. The horses were freed from the wagon.

The crossing is at the east edge of Morristown and is on the road that leads by the I & C. station. The switch post was about five feet from the road and the switch ran into the Morristown elevator. On the south side of the track is a grade with a street running into Morristown. The eighteen cars were piled up in this street to a height of forty feet. The engine remained on the main track for a distance of one hundred yards

Advertising as a Business Tonic

Man or woman in splendid physical condition needs no tonic.

But every now and then the best physique reaches a point where it needs toning up.

And so it is with business. No matter how strong the foundation, there are times—due to local, national, atmospheric, or other conditions—when it must stimulate trade.

Advertising is to lagging business what a tonic is to a run-down body. It gives new life, new vigor, new opportunities, a new outlook!

It is necessary to invigorate your store and your stock with the tonic of advertising, as it is necessary for us to renew our failing strength with herbs and tea.

Advertising is the impetus that sets the business whirl of activity in motion!

OSTEND FREED OF FOREIGNERS

This Adds Color to London Reports That Russian Expedition is on Way to Reinforce Allies.

SENT BY WAY OF SCOTLAND

New English Army of 500,000 Recruits Will be Completed in Few Days—Meeting Stimulates It.

(By United Press.)

London, Sept. 4.—Recruiting was greatly stimulated by today's non-partisan meeting and it was confidently asserted that Earl Kitchener's new army of 500,000 men will be complete in another ten days. The news that Paris probably will be invested within the next day or so has brought home to London the nearness of the "German peril."

All news regarding the actual situation in the field is withheld. Hints of Russian help in an expedition but there is no confirmation. The most definite reports say the czar has sent a vast army of a half million men, most of them cossacks, to Scotland, enroute to Ostend. Cavalry are badly needed if attempts are made to cut the German communications Ostend dispatches state that all foreigners have been ordered away. This adds color to the report that important developments are impending.

There is a distinct undercurrent of pessimism in the meagre news that comes from the continent. The complete isolation of Paris is considered certain in the very near future.

The one fact which prevents a panicky feeling, however, is the realization that the allied army is still intact.

Despite every effort on the part of the Germans it is still an active fighting force that must always be reckoned with. And the allied army will not make the mistake of permitting itself to be cooped up in the forts. It still has an open way and will take advantage of it although the whole of France north of the rivers, Aisne, Oise and the lower reaches of the Seine are in possession of the Germans and they are still moving swiftly forward.

The various rifle ranges are being worked at very daylight hour by the soldiers of the new army. The officers are taking Earl Kitchener's injunction to teach the man to shoot literally and there is very little drilling in the ordinary sense of the term. The new soldiers are taught everything possible about the care of their rifles and how to care for themselves in the field but little time is being spent explaining the technical military formation.

Recruiting is slowly increasing but the need of men is still apparent. The war office has appealed to the big employers of labor to urge their unmarried men to enlist. This is working out excellently as many of the more prominent firms are giving all employees leaves of absence at half pay on conditions that they enter the army.

Some Chance for American Makers, With French At War

BY MARGARET MASON

(Written for United Press.)

Dressmakers in America

Find in the war some joy.

For now they know all Paris gowns Must come from Illinois.

New York, Sept. 4.—With all good Frenchmen turning their thoughts from modes for the fair to modes of warfare, and all the good ships laden with Paris bonnets and Paris frocks tied up far from the Land of the Free and the Fee, there certainly is a great little chance for some of our makers. They can now make good their clamorous boast that their sarhome-grown designers and dress-torial creations are as good as the French if only American women will wear 'em.

New York windows, at present, however, are full of Paris creations that beat the war to it. While they last, home stuff, to be sure, won't have a look-in.

Among the more elaborate afternoon three-piece suits shown, one of the loveliest is of smoky taupe chiffon and velvet brocade. The long tunic, set on a deep girdle of plain black velvet, gives the effect of a hip yoke which is of brocade. This fabric is decidedly novel in that the velvet design on the same toned background of chiffon is a plaid effect of two-toned taupe. The underskirt is of the velvet and over a loose blouse of the brocade a unique velvet coat is worn, cut short to the girdle line in front, and behind showing a full length skirt full on with a corded heading to the back waist line of the jacket. An elaborate ornament of gold, silver, and jeweled embroidery like a plastron joins the jacket in front where it comes together very grudgingly with a low and open V-shaped cut-out neck effect.

A more simple but equally artistic costume is a coat gown of olive toned corduroy. The plain Russian blouse is belted in at the normal waist line with a gold embroidered black belt and buttons straight down the front from the high close fitting neck with bullet buttons of black and gold enamel. The same buttons trim the long plain sleeves and the skirt of the Russian blouse, which reaches to the hips, is edged with a fringe of monkey fur. The under skirt is plain.

When it comes to a question of your early Fall hat just take a Tip-an ostrich one-and combined with a black velvet shape you'll have "la derniere cri" in headcoverings. Just for the nonce everything in the millinery line has black velvet for a foundation and almost everything has ostrich feathers for trimming.

The few exceptions to this feathered rule are trimmed with galoon.

Already the tiny brimless hats are beginning to sprout out with brims and quite broad brimmed sailor shapes of black velvet, called by the French "canotie" to cast the shadows before of huge picture hats to come.

It is on the canotie hat that the ostrich feather trimmings are most effective and they are invariably in flat effects either circling the crown and completely hiding the top of the brim with their long curling fronds or else flat banding of short fronds is used edging the brim. Tiny single tips are also used as a brim edging.

Where the metalized banding or galoon is used as trimming for these canotie shapes. A long narrow flat bow on the brim edge is the favorite form of trimming. A band of galoon around the crown on a binding of galoon around the brim is also smart on the larger hats.

Everywhere the flat effect is striven for and it is only on the tiny turbans and almost hats that the stick-ups still rear heavenward to unprecedented heights.

You are sure to put your foot in it this Fall if you don't put both feet in the new Roman striped stockings. They are beautifully blended color the stripes running around and thereby giving a plump and curveful outline to the thinnest pedal externity.

Almost all color combinations are offered and all in such softly shaded good taste that although the colors are guaranteed fast you have not the slightest danger of appearing likewise if you don these silken novelties.

Good Business Judgment.

The city council last night exhibited good business judgment by raising the tax levy. The increase of fifteen cents in the levy for next year was the best thing for the taxpayers of Rushville, both now and in the future. The tax levy was not raised because this administration has been extravagant, but because of the poor business methods of the last administration.

Instead of raising the tax levy last September to pay the expenses of the city this year, the Black administration, which preceded the present one, let the legal time for making the tax levy slip by and there was nothing to do but let the old levy stand.

But the expenses of the city had to be paid just the same. The city did not have the money because not enough came through the treasurer's office in taxes. There was but one alternative. The city had to borrow it and pay six per cent interest on it. This is, the taxpayers will have to pay the interest. In addition they will have to pay the original debt.

But what's the use of paying the debt and the interest too? Why not raise the money through taxation in the first place and avoid the necessity of paying the interest. Of course, the interest is not a great amount of money, especially when borne by all of the people, but it is that much. Furthermore, it is not the way a business man would run his business when he had opportunity to do otherwise.

The present city administration, instead of raising the tax levy, for instance, five cents, to pay off a part of the bonds falling due next year, raised the levy on bonded indebtedness enough so that all of the bonds can be met in 1915. If this had not been done, the city would have had to borrow more money in 1915 to meet the bonds when they fell due. There would be more interest to pay. If such methods were pursued forever, the city debt would continually increase through sheer weight of interest.

Undoubtedly the city will be backed up by the good business judgment of the taxpayers of the city. The council reasoned that it was much better business to increase this particular levy from nineteen to thirty-four cents and pay off the indebtedness at four per cent interest, which the bonds call for, than add six per cent more in interest on money which would have to be borrowed to meet the bonds as they fall due of the money were not raised by taxation.

The bonds and interest on them falling due in 1915 amount to $10,072.36. If the levy on bonded indebtedness had not been increased to thirty-four cents, the city would have had to pay interest of $604.35 on that sum of money which would have had to have been borrowed to meet the bonds.

The levy for the general fund and the library fund was identically the same as last year. It was only to meet bonded indebtedness that the one branch of the levy had to be raised.

But even considering the obstacles brought about by bonding the city so heavily, the Rushville tax levy, with the increase in the fund for bonded indebtedness, is not any higher than the average levy in cities in this part of Indiana.

The Connersville city council has fixed the Connersville city levy for next year at $1.20. The Richmond city levy for 1915 is $1.10. In Shelbyville the levy for next year is $1.11. The Columbus city levy is $1.15 and it will probably not be increased for next year. The levy at Bloomington is $1.31 for next year.

process of solution is to be completed, no one must be given reason to doubt the solidity and adequacy of the treasury of the government which stands behind the whole method by which our difficulties are being met and handled.

The treasury itself could get along for a considerable period, no doubt, without immediate resort to new sources of taxation. But at what cost to the business of the community? Approximately $75,000,000 a large part of the present treasury balance, is now on deposit with national banks distributed throughout the country. It is deposited, of course on call. I need not point out to you what the probable consequence of inconvenience and distress and confusion would be if the diminishing income of the treasury should make it necessary rapidly to withdraw these deposits. And yet without additional revenue that plainly might become necessary, and the time when it became necessary could not be controlled or determined by the convenience of the business of the country. It would have to be determined by the operations and necessities of the treasury itself. Such risks are not necessary and ought not to be run. We cannot too scrupulously or carefully safeguard a financial situation which is at best, while war continues in Europe, difficult and abnormal. Hesitation and delay are the worst forms of bad policy under such conditions.

"And we ought not to borrow. We ought to resort to taxation, however we may regret the necessity of putting additional temporary burdens on our people. To sell bonds would be to make a most untimely and unjustifiable demand on the money market; untimely, because this is manifestly not the time to withdraw working capital from other uses to pay the government bills; unjustifiable because unnecessary. The country is able to pay any just and reasonable taxes without distress. And to every other form of borrowing whether for long periods or for short, there is the same objection. These are not the circumstances, this is, at this particular moment and in this particular exigency, not the market, to borrow large sums of money. What we are seeking is to ease and assist every financial transaction, not to add a single additional embarrassment to the situation. The people of this country are both intelligent and profoundly patriotic. They are ready to meet the present conditions in the right way and to support the government with generous self-denial. They know and understand and will be intolerant only of those who dodge responsibility or are not frank with them.

"The occasion is not of our own making. We had no part in making it. But it is here. It affects us as directly and palpably almost as if we were participants in the circumstances which gave rise to it. We must accept the inevitable with calm judgment and unruffled spirits, like men accustomed to deal with the unexpected, habituated to take care of themselves, masters of their own affairs and their own fortunes. We shall pay the bills, though we did not deliberately incur it.

"In order to meet every demand upon the treasury without delay or peradventure and in order to keep the treasury strong, unquestionably strong and strong throughout the present anxiety, I respectfully urge that an additional revenue of $100,000,000 be raised through internal taxes devised in your wisdom to meet the emergency. The only suggestion I take the liberty of making is that such sources of revenue be chosen as will begin to yield at once and yield with a certain and constant flow.

"I cannot close without expressing the confidence with which I approach a congress, with regard to this or any other matter, which has shown so untiring a devotion to public duty which has responded to the needs of the nation throughout a long season despite inevitable fatigue and personal sacrifice, and so large a proportion of whose members have devoted their whole time and energy to the business of the country."

before being pulled off by the wreckage behind, then it plowed along on its side and one side was buried three feet in the roadbed.

The eighteen cars piled in one mass were all heavily loaded. The heavy freight cars were shattered into kindling wood and the manner in which they were wedged and battered, a twisted mass of iron and wood, was a sight which attracted hundreds of people. The remainder of the twenty-five cars off the track were thrown on the north side. The track was torn up for a distance of two hundred yards.

The freight train was in charge of Percy Porter, conductor, of Indianapolis, and Rhoda Smith, engineer, formerly of this city. Smith remained at his post and was not injured. False reports given out by the C. H. & D. officials in this city late yesterday afternoon had the wreck been caused by an over-loaded car and the true cause was not known here until last night. Traffic on the C. H. & D. was not resumed until almost noon today. The freight train was traveling at fast rate, according to witnesses. It is estimated that the train was traveling from between thirty to forty miles an hour.

The train was reported out of Arlington at 1:05 o'clock and the accident occurred at 1:13 o'clock. The distance between Arlington and Morristown is seven miles, and according to this, the train was traveling right around a mile a minute. It is down grade from Gwynneville to Morristown and when the train hit the gravel wagon it must have been "beating it."

The wreck occurred directly north of the home of Dr. R. S. McCray and the injured were quickly taken to his home. Harry Talbert is thirty-eight years old and has a wife and nine children.

ty institute. The institute held today was attended only by the teachers in the township schools and any vote that might be taken on the question would not be final as the teachers in the schools of Rushville and Carthage are entitled to a word in the proceedings.

The Milroy teachers intended to bring the question to a vote this afternoon in order to feel out the sentiment of the teachers. If the proposition should be badly defeated on this vote the chances are that the question will be dropped. The teachers have taken sides on the question and it is believed that a majority, when all are represented at the meeting will vote against Milroy, mainly because of the location.

The institute was the first one of the year and took the place of the township institute that will be held later. Plans for the coming school year were discussed. County Superintendent C. M. George told the teachers what was to be expected of them and told what he hoped to accomplish in the schools this year. All of the schools will be open by September 14 and the institute was expected to prove valuable to the teachers.

Z. M. Smith, of Indianapolis, who is in charge of the teaching of agriculture in the schools of the state, in a brief talk to the teachers, outlined the plans of teaching this subject. The subject of agriculture is a new one in this county and the teachers followed Mr. Smith very closely. This subject will be taught in the seventh and eighth grades and in the high schools of the township schools. Mr. Smith advised the use of the laboratory instead of the text book in teaching this subject and stated that the text book be used only for reference. The subject this year in this line of work will be "Soils."

London, Sept. 4.—Bordeaux, the new seat of the French government, was the capital of the nation once before. The transfer was completed today.

Shortly after the founding of the Third Republic the government moved to Tours in 1871. When the Prussians moved on Tours, the government was moved to Bordeaux.

Bordeaux is 359 miles southwest of Paris and has a population of 240,000. It is located on the west bank of the Garonne, 60 miles inland, and is in the center of the Medoc wine growing district.

During the terrible days of the French revolution Bordeaux suffered almost as much as Paris. It was the headquarters of the Girondists at that time. It was at Bordeaux that the proclamation of Napoleon III's dethronement was decided upon by the last assembly meeting held there before the government went back to Paris.

Bordeaux is the third port of France in commercial importance. The great harbor there is capable of containing 1,000 ships of any size. Large ocean steamers can ascend the Garonne to the city at high tide. It would be easy to land English troops in the city.

There are a series of forts on either bank of the Garonne river leading.

Bordeaux's university is attended by over 2,000 students and has a library of 200,000 volumes. There are a series of forts on either bank of the Garonne river leading to Bordeaux and there is a ring of fortifications of minor importance on the inland outskirts of the city. While an armed force of size could easily take the town, it is improbable that the Germans could send such a force that distance and maintain a line of communications.

HOOSIERS AFTER ANOTHER PITCHER

Expect to Get Either Hollingsworth or Starkey For One of Games Against Arcadians.

MANY GOING ON SPECIAL

The Newcastle team is not taking any chances on letting Rushville win both games of two game series to be played there Sunday and Monday and is hot on the trail of a good pitcher to assist Hancock in the job of beating the Arcadians. The Hoosiers are after either Starkey or Hollingsworth. As far as the team here is concerned they would like to see Newcastle get Hollingsworth as they knocked him out of the box and might not be able to handle Starkey that easy.

Fans here are showing an increased interest in the two games and it is expected that at least 200 will make the trip there Sunday on the special train. The only change in the Rushville team is the addition of Bob Geary to the pitching staff. Geary will probably pitch the Sunday game in order to give the fans from here a chance to see him in action. Heller and Fox will work in the other game. The special will leave here at 12:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

NEW POPE COMES OF NOBLE FAMILY

Father of Benedict 15 Had Title of Marchese, But Della Chiesa Never Enjoyed it

GOT PLEASURE IN CHARITY

When Parishoners Gave Him Automobile he Accepted, But Only to Use in Doing Kind Deeds.

BY HENRY WOOD
(By U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Rome, Sept. 4.—From peasantry to nobility the Fisherman's Ring has passed in the election of Cardinal Della Chiesa as pope, succeeding His Holiness Pope Pius X. Pope Benedict XV, as the archbishop of Bologna shall henceforth be known, comes of a noble family. His father had the title of Marchese and though the son also enjoyed the title, he never used it and found his greatest pleasure in administering to the poor and needy.

Pope Benedict XV is physically the smallest man ever elected to the throne of Peter. He is very near sighted and wears glasses. The mind which will direct the affairs of the church in the coming years is such as commanded the admiration and respect of the famous Cardinal Rampolla, secretary of state during the pontificate of Pope Leo XIII.

A brother of the new pope is a retired admiral of the Italian navy. Another retired sea captain, as their brothers gave their lives to Italy, did His Holiness consecrate himself to the church. Of a deeply religious nature when he lived in Rome, he walked daily to celebrate the five o'clock morning mass. So simply was he dressed that he was often mistaken on the street for a poor priest seeking charity. Instead of living as he might have, as an under-secretary of state, he occupied poor and meagre apartments that he might devote his income toward charity. When he was appointed archbishop of Bologna, his new parishioners presented him with an automobile. The archbishop accepted the motor car, but in doing so, declared that he would use it only for the benefit of the poor; he would ride in the automobile only on missions of charity and in attending to his parish duties.

Cardinal Della Chiesa had little idea that he would be the next head of the church when he came to Rome for the conclave.

He told his intimate friends that he hoped that the new pope would appoint him secretary of state and when the highest sacred honor fell to him, he was all but overcome.

Pope Benedict XV is a member of the Knights of Malta and is using their cross in his coat of arms. He is described by some as having the statesmanship of Pope Leo, together with the piety of Pius, and his pontificate is looked forward to as marking a revival of the era of diplomacy in state as well as church affairs which flourished during the time of Leo XIII and his secretary of state Cardinal Rampolla. While Archbishop of Bologna the new pontiff was deeply interested in politics. When Pope Pius, at the last parliamentary election, permitted the Catholic of Bologna to vote, Archbishop Della Chiesa went afoot throughout the town notifying personally the Catholic electors.

Pope Benedict is well known to be ready to go to any extreme to right a wrong unwittingly done even the humblest priest. He recently severely punished a priest in the Bologna diocese, refusing even to hear the priest in defense. Later he learned the charges were groundless. He apologized personally to the priest who had been wronged.

When the cardinals enter the conclave for the election of a new pope, a cabinet containing robes of three different sizes to meet the physical requirements of any member of any member of the sacred college who may be elected, is placed in the sistine chapel. After the election of Cardinal Della Chiesa it was found that even the smallest of the robes was so large for Pope Benedict that he declined to pose for his photograph until a new robe could be made.

As a strange coincidence Cardinal Della Chiesa occupied cell 57 during the conclave just closed, the same cell that was occupied by Cardinal Sarto, elected Pope Pius X.

WANTS RECEIVER FOR THE HUSKER

Mrs. A. P. Walker, Holder of 949 of the 2,000 Shares, Says the Concern is Insolvent.

INDEBTEDNESS NEAR $2,000

Mrs. Alberta M. Walker, wife of Alpheus P. Walker, filed suit this morning against the Ideal Husker company, asking that a receiver be appointed to take charge of the affairs of the corporation.

Mrs. Walker avers that she is the owner of 949 shares of the capital stock, there having been issued 2,000 shares by the company at the par value of $100 a share. Mrs. Walker, in asking for a receiver, states that the company is insolvent and has not the money, means, property and assets with which to pay its existing indebtedness. She alleges that the Ideal Husker company is indebted to Harry Oyler in the sum of $500 and to C. B. Smith in the sum of $600 and alleges that the total indebtedness is about $2,000. The complaint states that the stockholders should be protected and the proper way would be to have a receiver appointed to take charge of the affairs.

SAYS GERMANY IS BARBARIAN

Premier Asquith Today Denounces Opponent in War at Meeting to Encourage Recruiting.

CIVILIZATION IS OUTRAGED

Refers to Burning of Louvain as

"Shameless Holocaust of Un-replicable Treasures."

(By United Press.)

London, Sept. 4.—Probably the most bitter denunciation of a hostile nation ever made by a British statesman featured a meeting held at Guild Hall today to encourage recruiting. Premier Asquith as the chief speaker, denounced Germany as a barbarian nation and declared that not since the thirty years war has civilization been so outraged. No attempt was made by any of the speakers to disguise the seriousness of the situation. The men are badly wanted and all England and her colonies must accept the responsibility was the tenor of the English proclamation.

The premier was applauded to the utmost as he denounced Germany and insisted that there could be no defense. He said:

"We have received only a fraction of the accounts of the countless outrages of these buccaneering levies. They have exacted tribute from the unprotected, from the non-combatants after their defenders have been compelled to fall back. But there are certain outrages that stand out over all to appall the world. Chief of these is that greatest crime against civilization and culture, the worst since the thirty years war, the shameless holocaust of the unreplicable treasures lit by blind barbarian vengeance at Louvain. It was unpardonable and inexcusable. And following on the murder of the non-combatants elsewhere in Belgium it emphasizes the blood lust of our enemy."

"I would sooner see England blotted out of history than to have seen her remain a silent witness to this tragic triumph of force over law and freedom. That was just what Germany meant when she forced this war. That was what was behind her invasion of Belgium and her violation of Belgium neutrality."

"Germany's ultimate aim is to crush the independence not only of Belgium, but of Holland and Switzerland as well. It is England's duty to crush this aggression. It must do it even though in accomplishing this task, it is necessary to utilize the very last resource of the empire."

Sneak Thief Enters Home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gardner and Steals Jewelry and Money

ATTENDING SHELBYVILLE FAIR

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gardner, a mile northwest of Manilla, was entered by a burglar some time Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Gardner were at the fair in Shelbyville and the prowler ran little risk of detection. He entered the house thru a window and ransacked every room. Mr. and Mrs. Gardner went to the fair again yesterday but they did not leave any loose change or jewelry lying about the house.

GERMANS MAY WALK INTO TRAP

Danger of Right Flank Marching into Danger Zone Near Paris is More Apparent Every Day.

PROGRESS THAT HAS DANGER

Removal of French Capital to Bordeaux Has no Significant Bearing on Military Operations

(By United Press.)

New York, Sept. 4.—Pierrefonds, the state of Porthos, that portly fighting machine member of Dumas' immortal quartet of guardsmen has become the extreme forward point of the present area of Germany's advance on Paris. It is half way between Compiegne and Soissons, on the Eastern fringe of the Compiegne forest, about forty miles northeast of Paris.

Between Compiegne, Pirrefonds and Soissons, German skirmishers are exploring the district south of the La Fere-Laon-Rheims fortified barrier into which it is the present aim of the German strategists to rush their left and right wings, and cut off the allied forces from Paris.

The German left has not succeeded in making any appreciable impression on the allies. It is probable reinforcements are being diverted from the left and are being sent to add to the main German striking power which is concentrated on the right.

There seems to be no doubt there is need for extra reinforcements on the German right. The danger of marching into a trap is becoming more pressing the nearer the German right gets to Paris. Only the right is making progress, and to keep in touch with the other field forces, either German lines of communication in the west must be made dangerously weak or there must be an abandonment of the German offensive in the eastern area of France.

A successful raid by the allies on the German communications and the isolation of an important part of the German forces must soon become a probability if the German right alone continues to progress.

The removal of the French capital to Bordeaux has no significance bearing on the military operations in the field. Wherever the Kaiser pitches his tent marks the governing center of Germany but the French executive system is not so centered.

The government of France might be directed by wireless telegraphy from Paris during a siege, but the retirement to Bordeaux gives far greater certainty of administrative control.

Paris has now become merely a military center and not the governing head of the nation. This fact, while decreasing the importance of its capture to Germany, will not have any bearing on the present strategy of the campaign.

Bordeaux itself is quite safe from invaders, unless all France is overrun and the Germans gain an epoch making triumph. Its capture would not be very difficult if the Germans got so far south, but that they can do so is beyond the range of present possibilities.

Rapidity and Success of Russian Invasion Of East Prussia Alarm Fighting Germans.

The Russian advance into Germany continued with reported success until the first real line of defenses was encountered, and then the fighting became very severe. The Russians invested Königsberg. Thorn and other important cities in East Prussia. It became apparent that their march toward Berlin was just as rapid as was the progress of the German army toward Paris. The picture shows Russian artillery crossing a river on the way into East Prussia. This territory is very difficult marching ground. The map indicates the rapidity of the Russian invasion.

ANTWERP READY FOR LONG SIEGE

Decree Ordering all Persons not Officially Registered in Belgian Capital Effective

ATTACK FROM AIR IS FEARED

Garrisons on Outer Forts are Reinforced to Repulse Any Possible Attack by Aircrafts

(By United Press.)

Antwerp, (via The Hague) Sept. 4.—Antwerp is ready for an extended siege. The decree ordering from the city all persons not officially registered is effective. Many of the refugees have left, most of them proceeding to Holland. Others are to be sent to England in the near future.

There are some fears that Germany plans an organized attempt to destroy the city by a fleet of Zeppelins. A number of the dirigibles have been located inside of the German lines near Leavain. Because of this fact the garrisons on the outer forts have been reinforced by detachments of picked marksmen who will be depended on to prevent the Zeppelins reaching the city. In addition the guards and lookouts in the church spires and on the taller buildings have been increased.

The city itself is calm. King Albert and the general staff are in almost constant consultation. The plans for the defense are complete. The sensational reports circulated in Holland that the forts are undermined and that many of the defense guns have not been placed in position are indignantly denied. There is not a single one of the forts that is not in proper shape with the guns shotted and manned and with an adequate reserve supply of ammunition.

That there exists a complete understanding between the Belgian and British general staffs is considered certain. While details naturally are withheld there is a general belief that should it be necessary British troops will be sent direct to Antwerp to aid in the city's defense. They could easily be brought in by steamer as even though the city is invested by the Germans it will be impossible for them to bottle up the harbor so long as the British fleet controls the waters of the North Sea.

Every effort is being made to increase the food supply. Special steamers have brought in large quantities during the last few days and all has been taken over by the government. The city is under military control, the civil guards working in conjunction with the regular troops. Many of the women have already been sent to places of asylum in anticipation of the coming siege. However, up to the present the canal dykes have not been opened. This will be reserved as the last move and will be resorted to only when the German siege trains are reported approaching.

The attitude of the king and the army is one of quiet confidence.

The Storm Buggy Season Is Open

and we know right in the beginning that we are in a position to furnish you with a Storm Buggy with more up-to-date features, better quality and less price than any dealer in this section of the globe. We really have buggies with doors that won't rattle, and many other new features not found elsewhere. Don't make the mistake the old man did when he started to lead the two calves to pasture. You know how that was? He was leading the calves and when he came to a gate that was hard to open he tied a calf to each boot strap and when he opened the gate the calves ran away with the old man and dragged him at a fast pace over the rough ground. His wife finally reached his side and released him and upbraided him for a fool and asked him if he didn't know better than to tie calves to his boots. "Yes, Ann," he replied, "I didn't get more than four rods until I discovered my mistake." That is the way with some people buying buggies. They find out their mistake too late to do them any good and it is their own fault, because it costs you nothing to look at our buggies and all we want is a chance to show you. We know you will buy them if you look them over. Will you do it? Our advice is do it now.

TURKEY HAS NOT DECLARED WAR

Furthermore, She Insists on Her Neutrality, States Cablegram From Constantinople Today.

RECEIVED AT WASHINGTON

(By United Press.)

Washington, Sept. 4.—That Turkey has not declared war against any country and that she will further insist upon her neutrality was the substance of a cablegram from Constantinople to the Turkish ambassador today.

The cable as translated at the embassy read verbatim as follows:

"I hereby inform you that by reason of the neutrality he has adopted, Turkish military authorities order to insure by every possible means perfect safety of merchant vessels of belligerents and of neutral states taking refuge in her ports."

Ambassador A. Rustem Bey said he interpreted this as direct information from his government that Turkey had not declared war, and that she will insist upon her neutrality. He said this cablegram contradicted all rumors of war by Turkey.

The cable was sent by the Turkish minister of foreign affairs and left Constantinople September 3.

GERMANS WITHIN FEW MILES OF PARIS FORTS

resigned because he was unable to attend to the duties of his office and his secretary has been named as his successor.

Bordeaux is seven hours ride from Paris by the fastest train but elaborate plans have been made to maintain communication. Even though the telegraph lines should be interrupted, the government will be able to keep in touch by wireless through the emergency stations at the war office and the Eiffel tower station.

The military regulations covering entrance and exit were strongly enforced today. While the refugees from the north were permitted to enter, the government was making arrangements to send the right through the city. Special trains were in service and all were crowded.
Ambassador Herriek was hurrying all Americans to the seacoast where arrangements had been made to send them across to England.

The government has made elaborate preparations to care for the refugees from the zone of fighting.
Concentration camps will be established wherever necessary and all will be fed and housed.

Although the government has been moved to Bordeaux and the records of the nation have also been sent there, the United States embassy will remain here. Ambassador Myron T. Herriek very frankly stated that he sees no reason for moving at this time. The embassy is neutral territory. It will not be attacked and, even though the Germans should eventually occupy the city, the ambassador, and his staff would be in no danger. Paris is the center for the American refugees who are coming from the South and from Switzerland. The ambassador believes he can best serve them by remaining here. At his request the banking house of Morgan Harjes & Co., which has been handling the embassy's financial business, will remain open at least for the present.

All of the wounded in Paris hospitals who were in condition to be moved are being sent away today.
They are being transferred on special trains to temporary hospitals which have been established.

It is certain that whether Paris is besieged or not, it will be the center of the pivoted operations planned to follow any further retreat of the allied left wing. There is no doubt that the Germans plan a siege.
Their great thirty ton Krupp guns, which were so serviceable in smothering out the Namur forts, are being moved south. Instead of horses, the Germans are using enormous traction engines to bring the guns forward. The French artillery experts, however, profess to believe these guns will prove utterly ineffective against even the outer ring of fortifications.

The fact that a supreme effort made Tuesday and Wednesday to crumple up the allied left, and drive it back on the center, failed has greatly added to the confidence of the military experts here. They declare the Germans brought into action their entire strength, even pushing the reserve forward. The allies mowed them down like wheat with their artillery and rapid-fire guns. The German artillery fire was excellent and caused heavy casualties in the allied ranks but the German rifle fire was poor. The German charges were marked with the utmost heroism on the part of the Germans but they could not withstand the withering rain of bullets from the allied rifles and the artillery. The French marksmanship was deadly and whole companies were wiped out by the fire from the automatic guns which swept across the front of the charging hosts.

It was announced today that one of the German aviators who have been flying over the city was brought down by the rifle fire from the outer forts last night. His machine is reported to have been completely wrecked and he was killed.

Bernice Encampment will have work tonight followed by a watermelon feast and farewell reception to O. D. Tyner who will leave soon for Fort Wayne where he will teach this winter.

Stories of Cool Nerve of Belgians Recited

(By United Press.)

Antwerp, (by mail to New York,) Sept. 4.—Stories of the cool nerve of Belgian soldiers under fire are being told everywhere by refugees and correspondents arriving from the battlefields in lower Belgium. The story is told of one volunteer who returned after a skirmish with Uhlans and calmly announced "Well, I killed two." Then as he filled his pipe, he added: "I hit one right there" putting his finger to his forehead. "His helmet went spinning and I picked it up later and saw the hole my bullet made."

Clerks, brokers and business men have been turned into fighting devils.
The Belgians were not out of their uniforms for days at a time. Sleeping and eating in the trenches when they could, they became veritable vagabonds. Even when catching a few winks of sleep the men lay with their rifles on their arms, ready for action.

DIES FROM FALL AFTER 7 WEEKS

Mrs. Jennie Hill, Age 72 Years, Expires at Milroy From Effects of Injuries.

FUNERAL SET FOR SUNDAY

Mrs. Jennie Hill, 72 years old, widow of the late William Henry Hill, died this afternoon at 12:30 o'clock at her home in Milroy. Seven weeks ago tonight Mrs. Hill fell down the stairs at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Jesse F. Miller in Milroy and never recovered from the effects of the fall. Mrs. Hill was spending the night at the Miller home. She suffered a slight fracture of the skull and because of her advanced age death had been expected for some time.

Mrs. Hill had been a resident of Milroy practically all her life and was a well known and highly respected woman. She was a member of the Methodist church. Mrs. Hill is survived by one daughter, Mrs.
Horace Thompson of Indianapolis.
The funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at two o'clock in the Methodist church and burial will take place in the Milroy cemetery.

SCHOOL DAYS

The schools throughout the county will soon be opening, and mothers are again faced with the problem of outfitting their children for the autumn season. Too much stress cannot be placed upon our careful preparation to meet this demand. We are complete outfitters for girls and can supply much that the boys need.

Dresses

We have just received a new line of the famous Princess Wash and Wool Dresses. The styles are beautiful, the fabrics are the best and the prices most reasonable. You cannot afford to make them—come and be convinced.

For Rainy Days

Protect the children from the wet weather and save doctor bills. We are showing a splendid assortment of rain coats, capas and rain hats—the kind that will turn water. Good values in umbrellas and overshoes, too.

Sweaters

The greatest utility garment made. We have them in all weights, bright colors and sizes for both boys and girls. Buy your sweaters while the choice is still unlimited, so that you can have the use of it throughout the season.
